The officers of the Freshman class were President, Dave Thompson; Vice-President, Barb Becker; Secretary, Terry Manney; and Treasurer, Linda King.

August 26, 1974, the class of "78" became a part of Altoona High School. They participated earnestly in high school activities. The effort put forth on their homecoming float earned for them second place with a slogan of "Kiss 'em Good-bye!" During the homecoming pep assembly they also received a second place on their skit. Not only were the freshmen active during homecoming week, but throughout the entire year by taking part in various sports and clubs.

United We Stand

Altoona's spirit soared with varsity cheerleaders: Sue Schafer, Shari Manor, Kim Simonson, Tammy Rogers, Rae Manney, and Kathy Christ

Competing for varsity cheering was Sue Schafer.

Saying hello: Front: Barb Becker. Back: Jill Indrebo, Becky Sundquist, Mary Becker, Char LaChapelle, Sue VanderWegen.

Proving that cheering was an important part of the game, cheerleaders cheered the team on to a victory.

We're behind the Rails.

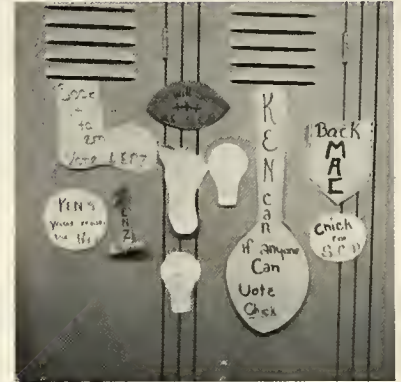

"Frankenstein" was a popular cheer for everyone, including the cheerleaders.

Frosh cheerleaders were: Laury Peterson, Barb Becker, Patrice Wagner, Teri Manney.

Fresh Ideas Spark

Signs were posted and buttons passed out to promote a good campaign for all candidates.

With members, D. Johnson, C. Rude, R. Yule, J. Turner, L. Peterson, T. Stene, P. Johnson, Sec. -Treas. S. VanderWegen, P. Olson, Pres. P. Lenz worked with T. McGrouary and Vice-pres. K. Schafer to promote a new and better school program. Helping them was R. Zahorik.

Presidential candidates for Student Council were: P. Lenz, K. Schafer, and T. McGrouary.

Student Council Progress

Candidates and managers looked on with interest as speeches were given.

Council members delegated committees to solve school problems.

Roberta Greene and manager Jim Becker awaited student council returns.

Volunteers for Student Council went out petitioning for open campus.

"I'm Nick Barkley and everything I see is mine !!!"

This year's student council came up with new ideas and formed committees in regard to a Badger Girl representative, election changes, continuation of the foreign exchange program, the creation of a student talk area, setting up an annual free dance, involvement in the STOP ecology program, representation at school board meetings, and setting up a reward for the conviction of vandels. The entire council worked toward achieving a sound case for open campus, distribution on concession facilities equally, holding bi-monthly meetings for better student representation, enlarging the student council so class presidents can vote, and promoting citizen participation in school activities. Hats off to these people who achieved so much for the students.

Hectic Homecoming

The prize-winning skit was performed by members of the Senior class.

Taking part in "Dress-up" Day were Deanna Olson and Dan Miller.

Students, dressed in various costumes, enjoyed participating in Oddball Day.

As in years before, Homecoming week, September 30-October 4, was looked forward to with eager anticipation by students of all ages. Festivities were begun on Tuesday, Dress-up Day, when the students came to school attired in their best clothes. On Wednesday students observed Oddball Day by wearing the most off-beat outfits they could put together. Wednesday night the entire town turned out for the Pep Rally, where each class put on an original skit. First prize was won by the Senior class, followed by Freshmen with second, Juniors with third and Sophomores with fourth. Following the Pep Rally everyone hurried outside for the bonfire. The next evening everyone came for the parade, which included the floats on which the classes had worked so diligently. Later, the football team played Fall Creek and defeated them 14-12. Friday was the dance, for which "Kicks" provided music. The King and Queen, Jim Becker and Penny Skahaug, were crowned. The court consisted of: Senior representatives--Mike Erickson and Barb Ventzke; Junior representatives--Dan Wagner and Kim Simonson; Sophomore representatives--Chuck Steuding and Renee Mayer; Freshmen representatives--Darrell Ash and Shelly Dressel. All in all, the entire week was deemed a huge success by everyone.

During the Homecoming Parade, the Pom-Pom girls showed their spirit by marching.

Week Is Happy Event

Couples danced to the music of "Kicks".

After receiving the ball from the center, Jim Turner threw a pass for a touchdown.

Reigning over Homecoming court were: Queen Penny Skahaug and King Jim Becker.

Creative Ideas Inspire Floats

Taking first place in the float competition was the Junior class. Their original float consisted of a large papier-mache Winnie the Pooh and his honey-pot, with the slogan "How Sweet It Is". Congratulations are extended to them for a job well done.

Second place was won by the Freshman class, who did very well for their first year. They constructed an enormous chocolate kiss and used the slogan "Kiss 'em Good-bye".

The Senior class took third place with their tall grand father clock and the slogan "Time For a Victory". It was the last Homecoming the Seniors could participate in and many long hours of work were put into their final float.

We would like to thank the following parents for allowing the floats to be built in their garages: Mr. and Mrs. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Haugen, Mr. and Mrs. Rulien, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. We appreciate your warm generosity. Thank you.

The Sophomore class came in fourth, but they added a unique new touch. Instead of pulling the float by car, several of the students pulled it by hand. The float's slogan was "Blocks to Success."

Rail Backers

Spirit was shown on the way to a game!

For the first time, the Altoona Pep Club of "74-75" included boys as well as girls in membership. The main purpose of membership was to cheer on all sports activities and show their spirit by painting signs that were hung throughout the halls and gym. The elected officers were: President, Julie Klee; Vice-President, Penny Skahaug and Secretary-Treasurer, Sue Schafer. When the members attended a game they were given a punch on their membership card. The members with the most punches at the end of the year got a pin or badge. This year's pep club really encouraged sports activities on to success.

Olson, P. Olson, P. Olson, J. Ottinger, S. Pecor, C. Peterson, L. Peterson, C. Pierce, A. Reed, K. Roberts, K. Roberts, T. Rogers, D. Rosentrater, K. Simonson, P. Skahaug, L. Squires, B. Sundquist, C. Thompson, M. Utberg, S. VanderWegen, P. Wagner, J. Wick.

As the final quarter ended, disappointed faces showed a Rail loss.

Spirit banners were sold by the "74-75" Pep Club.

Mr. Sorensen received a lovely cake for his birthday, which was devoured by well-wishing teachers.

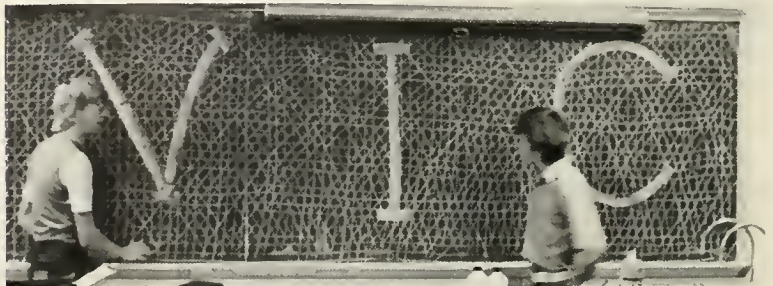

The teacher's room was used as a place for relaxation and for preparation for the next day's class.

A bulletin board was displayed using faculty members as representatives in the pilgrim era.

Taking a break from a teacher's duties, Mrs. Cowley prepared to make a phone call.

Jim Schwiebert and Paul VanderWegen prepared a tribute to Mr. Sorensen.

Lighter Moments Enjoyed

On the usual school day Mr. Bredesen's office had its usual traffic jam.

Part of a teacher's duty is helping and Mrs. Stabenow gave Paul Lenz a hand in Journalism.

Taking a break from teaching, Mr. Schroeder and Mr. Severson admired Mr. Streif's little boy.

Our education field is expanding. It allows us now to become interested in a trade such as small engines and office practice. However we still have the traditional English, Math, and History to help those who go on to receive a college degree.

The next few pages are portrayals of the people who have shaped our future.

Necessary Services Rendered

Meals were prepared by: Mrs. Fenner, Mrs. Radtke, and Mrs. Leland.

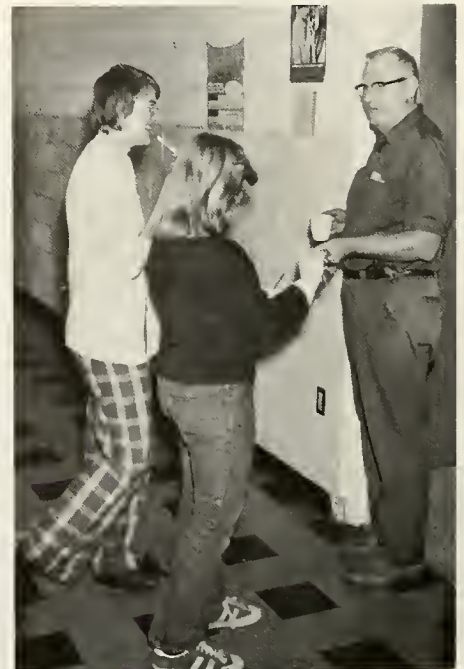

Students of Altoona High School appreciated the efforts put forth by the cooks, the janitors, and the bus drivers. Due to their co-operation and hard work, our school system ran smoothly and efficiently. Their tasks were done with a friendly smile on their faces. The students would like to say thank-you for school lunches, clean rooms, and transportation to school.

Mini-bus piloted by Bill Leland.

Transportation was provided by: Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Dressel, and Mrs. Pierce.

Janitor Bill granted key to seniors.

For Proficient Operation

The atmosphere of cleanliness was created by: Mr. Radke, Mr. Van Dyke, Mr. Underwood, and Mr. Zachau.

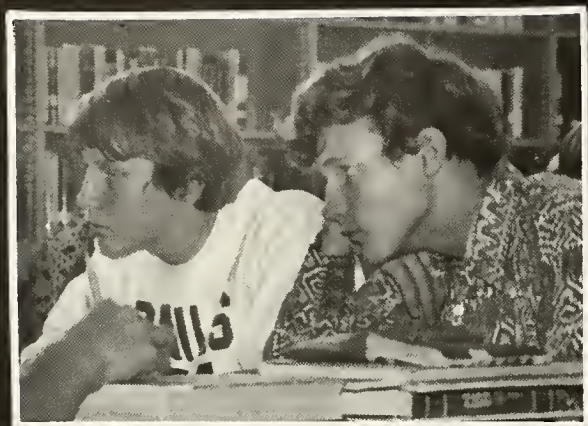

Great care was necessary in preparing lunches.

Students were driven to Augusta by Mrs. Spreckles.

Kitchen assistants: Greg Boley, Ken Schafer, Joanne Klingbeil, John Ness, Bill Boley, Dave Thompson, Chuck Boley, Mark Rajotte, Randy Anderson, and Todd Johnson.

Further Musical Education

Talents were developed in many areas of music through our ever expanding curriculum. Many students have participated actively in both folk group and stage band. New outfits were acquired by the folk group to brighten their appearance. This successful year in both of these classes makes one thing certain, Altoona has rhythm.

Practice makes perfect.

Stage Band, front: Director Mr. Hamel, K. Sorenson, K. Mangru. Back: P. Olson, P. Skahaug, M. Trehey, R. Greene, B. Lane, J. Klee, R. Mayer, P. Dorum, W. Johnson, R. Borreson, C. Lustig, B. Underwood, D. Siewert, B. Sundquist, C. Pierce, D. Wenaas.

Folk Group, Front: K. Indrebo, T. Stene, T. Rogers, S. Pecor, K. Sherman, G. Kleist, C. Mangru. Middle: J. Turner, T. McGrouary, B. Daken, M. Trehey, S. Schafer, L. Squires, R. Manney, D. Rosentrater. Back: K. Hasenmueller, K. Rulien, J. Turner, L. Hagen, M. Utberg, J. Becker, P. Skahaug, J. Lopour.

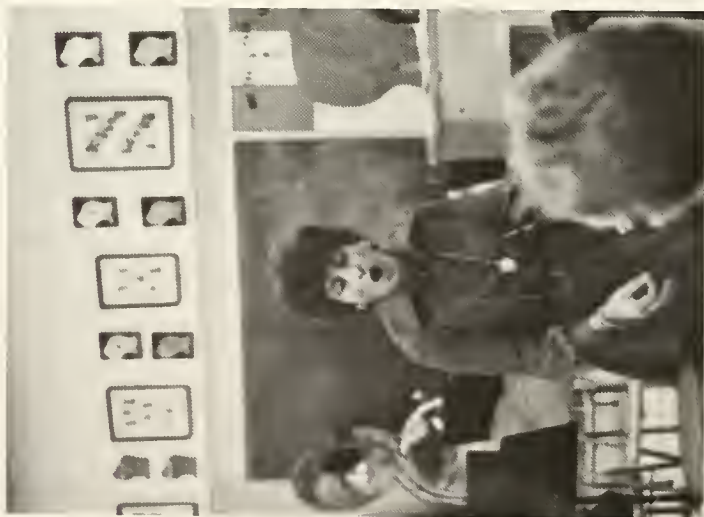

Altoona high school has never had a healthier group of tonsils.

All the hours of practice were made worthwhile when concerts were performed.

Sounds of Music

Directing and trying to motivate the girls was Lois Kildah.

First Sopranos, First row: L. Flaskrud, S. Pecor, P. Olson, C. Larson, T. Rogers. Second row: C. Brock, S. Bormann, R. Holtz, D. Siewert, P. Burns, L. King. Third row: L. Flaskrud, B. Daken, B. Silvernail, K. Carr, M. Urberg, B. Becker, L. Strand, P. Olson.

Second Sopranos, First row: P. Sedahl, C. Lustig, L. Peterson, S. Card, D. Melland, P. Dorum. Second row: R. Sharpe, T. Mayer, D. Sherman, N. Brock, K. Rulien, D. Rosentrater, S. Schafer, K. Indrebo.

The accompanist for Chorus was Marianne Utberg.

The "73-74" Altoona Senior High Chorus, under the direction of Lois Kildahl, performed at six concerts which the residents of Altoona were able to attend and enjoy. The girls proved their talents by harmonizing to the best of their abilities. To achieve this wonderful sound, the fifty-three girls were divided into four sections—first and second sopranos and first and second altos.

Altos, First row: W. Johnson, C. Mangru, T. Manney. Second row: P. Wagner, K. Mangru, J. Turner, L. Kleist, R. Manney, L. Hagen. Third row: K. Roberts, D. Rosentrater, M. Becker, P. Skahaug, D. Olson, L. Shelley, C. Roberts.

Becky Sundquist portrayed Joseph in "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dream Coat."

Chorus girls tried hard to learn their music for the upcoming concerts.

Good Vibrations

Although a large jump in enrollment is still a year or so away, our high school band grew from 32 to 37 members this year. A heavier than usual schedule of events including football shows, basketball pep band performances, fun night, and five formal concert appearances kept the members busy.

Class B competition was the "name of the game" at the Spring Festival in Cornell this year. Soloists and small ensembles, along with Jazz Ensemble, Brass choir, Clarinet choir, and Percussion Ensemble made their annual debut at the district and state festivals. A new concert (hopefully an annual event) was started for the Jazz Ensemble, along with the Choralliers. All in all, we were involved!

Low Brass--Kneeling: Penny Skahaug. Back: Robin Sharpe, Cindy Baker, Pam Olson.

This fun-loving trio hammed it up after a performance.

Woodwinds--Tammy Gillett, Pam Dorum, Lori Kleist, Amy Reed, Julie Klee, Kay Indrebo, Nancy Brock, Kathy Mangru, Laurie Hagen, Lori Flaskrud, Lori Strand, Missing: Carrie Zurek

Members of the band took their positions in preparation for the Homecoming Parade.

Majorettes--Front: Cheryl Lustig. Middle: Renee Mayer. Back: Becky Sundquist, Laurie Hagen, Penny Skahaug.

The band director, Mr. Hamel, listened closely for any imperfections.

Percussion--Gary Kleist, Kim Sorenson, Denise Rosentrater, Jeff Reali. Missing: Mark Trehey.

Brass--Cheryl Lustig, Jennifer Wenaas, Jim Schaffer, Renee Mayer, Brian Underwood, Becky Sundquist, Bob Lane, Tim Stene.

Led by the majorettes, the band neared the end of its long march through town.

Carefully watching his music, Mr. Hamel led the students in a song.

Saxophones--Roberta Greene, Kim Berg, Rhonda Borreson, Cindy Pierce, Wendy Johnson, Debbie Siewert, Denise Wenaas.

Altoona's sophomores are our future outstanding figures. These young people have the potential just as sophomores of yester year. They are competitors, trying their best in such fields as basketball, volleyball, baseball, and track. Their dedication to the school has helped make it what it is today, a competitive school. Many sophomores aren't active in sports, but participate in debate, choir and band. Whether or not it's basketball or debate, all of them have taken pride in their work. The class of '77 will be a big factor in our school's history just like years past.

Becky Sundquist acted as Joseph in the school play.

The class of 1976 proved its versatility and dominance in a number of different activities. Members of this class, with an enrollment of 74 in the fall of '74 participated in varsity cheerleading, debate, wrestling, gymnastics, basketball, tutoring program, football, forensics, ski club, baseball, and track.

The juniors won the first place award for their homecoming float, "How Sweet It Is", and planned a fantastic prom in May.

Representatives for their class on the Student Council were: Connie Rude, Tim Stene, and Dave Johnson. Class officers were: President, Dave Johnson; Vice-President, Mike Schroeder; and Secretary-Treasurer, Mark Miller.

The juniors exhibited true school spirit enjoying the year eagerly awaiting the role they will play as seniors.

Senior wrestler Mike Erickson.

Assistant coach Tom Weigand.

Senior wrestler Ken Hasenmueller.

Successful Season

Wrestling has dated back to pre-historic days when cavemen used it as a type of defense. Indians used it as a sport to release tension.

Successful wrestling demands strength, speed, coordination, physical conditioning and balance.

The team was well balanced filling all but the 98 pound weight class.

We Love Our Team

Jill Indrebo, Penny Skahaug, Cindy Pierce, Terri Manney, Sandy Pecor.

"I think I made a mistake!"

Pam Olson, Barb Becker, Terri Manney, Connie Frueh, Lori Strand.

Wrestling cheerleaders promoted spirit at a match.

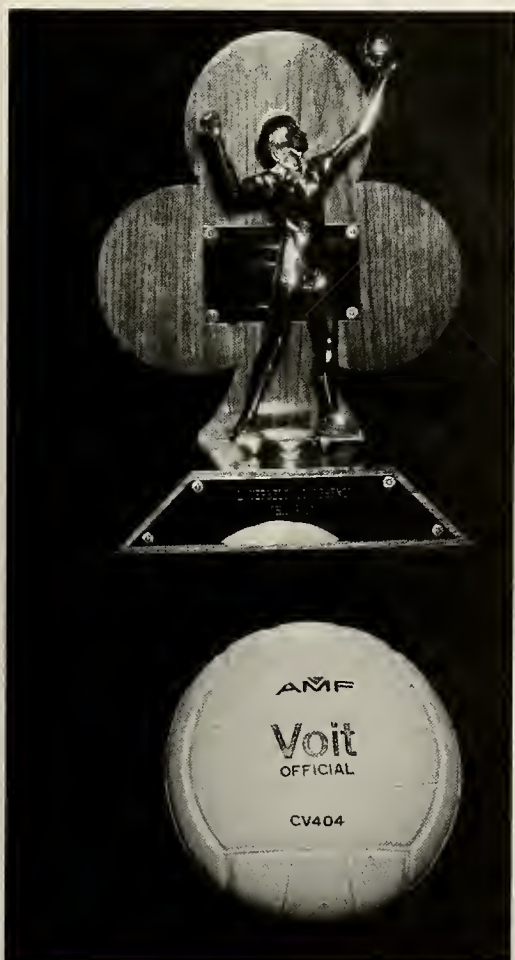

Four out of five ain't bad!

Go, Fight, Win!!!!

As in years past, another Altoona team proved to many as being one of the BEST! The 1974 Girls' Volleyball Team finished their conference season with a 11-0 record and a 4-0 in non-conference action. The Railettes won the Cloverbelt Conference Title by defeating Owen-Withee in the Cloverbelt Playoffs at Altoona. Spiking their way into Regionals the Railettes out served Fall Creek, and passed by Augusta in the Championship Match. Although they were beaten by Arkansaw at Sectionals, the Railettes ended the '74 season with a total of 15 wins and 1 loss. The JV's finished the season with a 2-8 record.

Varsity--Front: L. Briski, K. Christ, C. LaChappelle, Coach Giese, S. VanderWegen, R. Mayer, L. Briski. Back: R. Haugen, L. Shelley, D. Olson, C. Shelley, B. Sundquist.

Beginning season's goal fulfilled.

The JV's fired-up for their fame.

Miss Paskausky presented the Cloverbelt Conference trophy to Coach Giese and the Railettes.

Junior Varsity--Front: D. Rosentrater, R. Sharpe, B. Daken. Middle: L. Briski, P. Wagner, N. Hoth, L. Flaskrud, T. Mayer, L. Briski. Back: B. Becker, D. Rosentrater, M. Becker, K. Roberts, C. Roberts, Coach Giese.

We've Got News for You

Sue, Kris, and Tammy hard at work.

During the 1974-75 year, the Mass Media class very thoroughly and accurately covered the current events which were of interest to the students of A.H.S. The Mass Media class is a fairly new one, being quite different than the former Journalism class, in that it is more involved and demanding. With the new addition of our school, plans have been made for a Graphic Arts Department in which we'll be able to publish our own paper as well as develop our own pictures. Meggett Printing Company has printed our monthly issues of "Tracks of Time" this year.

Co-editors Cindy Baker and Tim Brennan were the only seniors who had taken the pre-requisite last year. Thus, the Mass Media students began in the fall writing and doing layouts for the school paper.

K. Rajotte, P. Lenz, T. Krogman, G. Kleist, C. Baker, T. Brennan, S. Schafer, T. Rogers, K. Schafer, D. Olson, L. Briski, Kneeling: Mrs. Stabenow, P. Curtis, C. Peterson.

Annual Creativity

Front: P. Skahaug, Mrs. Stabenow, M. Utberg, L. Olson, L. Misselt, L. Rohde, D. Olson, K. Rulien, C. Rude, S. DeBord, Back: C. Thompson, J. Turner, J. Baraboo, R. Sharpe, M. Pietenpol, G. Halverson.

Being on the yearbook staff also meant getting first peak at the new pictures.

In order to make a yearbook, much hard work, time, and patience is required. The publications class of 1974-75 was credited with having these important traits. This year the class was held every day, which was a great factor in the progress of the annual. The yearbook must meet 5 deadlines a year in order to be completed by May. A supplement was also constructed for the yearbook, consisting of Prom, Track and other events which occurred in the spring.

Co-editors for the 1975 annual were Penny Skahaug and Marianne Utberg. Jim Turner took the task of Business Manager and the Advisor for this year was Mrs. Stabenow.

"Snowball Express"

Queen candidates and escorts were: D. Planert, R. Manney; R. Greene, D. Miller; K. Hasenmueller, M. Utberg; L. Shelley, D. Roach.

A train in the middle of the gym, snowflakes and snowman enhanced the theme of "Snowball Express" on Dec. 11. Christmas trees were arranged, complementing the atmosphere.

Climaxing the evening was the introduction of the court and the crowning of the royalty.

Reigning over joyous affair were F. Barby, and D. Olson.

Back drop of Santa captivated the Christmas spirit.

Sparks Gala Season

Prancing around the gym, Santa wished everyone a Merry Christmas.

Playing cheery Christmas, the band set a festive mood for the dance.

Paintings of a train and a snowman depicted the theme of "Snowball Express."

Helping out at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Barby, Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, and Mr. and Mrs. Baker.

Court enjoyed their traditional first dance.

Successful Agility, Ability

Shari Manor

Kathy Christ

Kim Simonson

Mrs. Schlewitz and Kathy Christ lent Charmaine LaChappelle a helping hand.

With new coach Mrs. Schlewitz, Altoona's gymnastic team had another great season. The girls diligently practiced to get in shape for their meets. Each girl participated in a different field of gymnastics. Taking first place became common practice for the team. Congratulations to the gymnasts for competing successfully.

Coach Schlewitz showed great muscle control as she demonstrated a move.

A back summie was flawlessly executed by Kathy Christ.

Snow Skiers Tackle Slopes

Attending an informal meeting were Mark and Rick.

Instructor, Becky Sundquist, watched her pupil, Mary Munden, fall.

Skiers of AHS were from left to right: B. Boley, K. Rulien, S. Pankratz, P. Vander Wegen, J. Bassing, M. Trehey, R. Boley, R. Greene, R. Anderson, J. Klee, B. Sundquist, R. Weegman, R. Haugen, and S. Vander Wegen.

Mary Munden really tackled the slope!

Becky, Kathy, and Mary prepared for the next run.

A new extra curricular activity at AHS was the ski club. Started in the fall of "74", the 19 members began planning their skiing trips as early as possible, beginning with raising money. Candy sales, bazaar sales, selling popcorn, and other sales helped to finance their trips. After the first snow fall, they were going to surrounding ski areas over the weekends and using every moment to get in another run down the slopes. The following were elected club officers: B. Sundquist; president; K. Rulien, vice-president; and R. Boley, secretary-treasurer. Advising the club was Lois Kildahl. Since skiing is a growing sport, the ski club hopes there will be more members next year.

Ending with "Best of '75"

Jotting down notes, Mrs. Stabenow made a reminder for one of her many classes.

From the HEADLIGHT 1965 to the BEST OF '75 Mrs. Stabenow has been the yearbook advisor in Altoona. She saw many staffs through last-minute deadlines and scurried planning.

When Mrs. Stabenow first took over the job of yearbook advisor, the staff was using school paste-up, a method of constructing a yearbook. This method involves cutting up photographs to the size desired and pasting them and typed copy on a mat. She saw Altoona through the transition from this to company paste-up, our present method used. In this method, photographs are proportionately shrunk and enlarged and sent in with a sort of blue-print as to how the finished page will look.

After ten years, Mrs. Stabenow has decided that the fresh ideas of a new advisor will benefit the yearbook more than she can. All staffs have appreciated the help and understanding given by Mrs. Stabenow and say "thank you" for all her years of service.

Mrs. Stabenow stressed a point from her familiar position at the podium.

Erasing the marks after a busy day, Mrs. Stabenow prepared to leave.

We Appreciate Mr. Pedersen

Looking over the mail of the day, Mr. Pedersen contemplated an important decision.

Mr. Pedersen graduated from Wisconsin State University in 1937 with a Social Studies major and a Mathematics minor. After teaching in Portland, North Dakota, he came to Altoona in 1940 to teach science and mathematics and coach basketball. In 1942 his team went to the state tournament at Madison.

For five years he was in the Marines serving in the South Pacific theater where he attained the rank of captain.

It was in 1947 that Mr. Pedersen returned to school at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, and received his Masters degree in school administration.

Since 1948 he has worked for the betterment of the Altoona Public School.

With much pride, Mr. Pedersen stood in front of the school named in his honor.

The Pedersen family was united in choosing teaching as a profession. His wife Beulah teaches at Randall School in Eau Claire; his son Richard teaches at Memorial High School and his other son Thomas attended the Wisconsin State University in Eau Claire, majored in Mathematics and is now Assistant Federal Banking Inspector in Mankota.

Although Mr. Pedersen enjoys fishing, it seems more likely that his best hobby is golf. He has won several area tournaments, had a "hole in one" at Hallie and served as golf pro at the Elks Country Club.

Since the school burned in 1951, voters have shown confidence in Mr. Pedersen's judgment by passing six building referendums. The buildings now represent a two million dollar investment.

Mr. Pedersen proved his advanced math ability by solving a complicated formula.

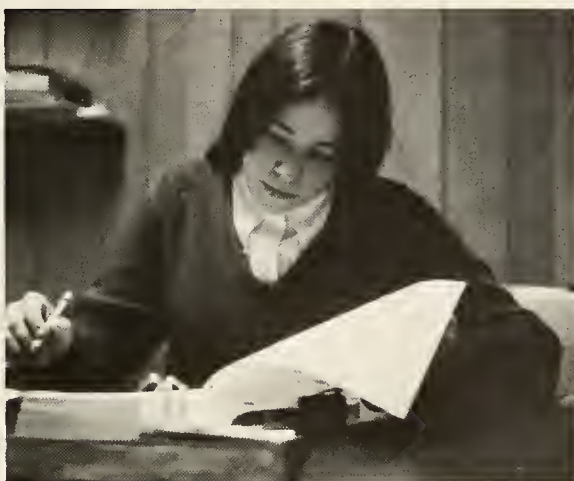

Student discipline is one more aspect of Mr. Pedersen's diversified job.
